

INTRODUCING BULK FAIR TRADE CERTIFIED™ ORGANIC SPICES

Frontier is pleased to continue our strong commitment to ethical business and social practices by introducing 16 new Fair Trade Certified, Organic Spice Selections. These high quality spices, packaged in 1lb bulk bags, come from small marginalized producers who are committed to organic, sustainable farming practices.

Meet One of Our Farmers

Mr. NG Wijethilaka, a farmer in Sri Lanka and a father of four, owns only 0.75 acres of land on an abandoned tea estate. On his land Mr. Wijethilaka grows cloves, cinnamon, turmeric, ginger, tea, pepper, lemongrass, fruit trees and a few other items - all intercropped which creates a huge amount of biodiversity.

About eight years ago, Mr. Wijethilaka nearly gave up farming, as all he could produce was about 6 kg of tea leaves per month. He became a member of SOFA (Small Organic Farmers Association). With their help and guidance, Mr. Wijethilaka learned more sustainable farming techniques which allowed him to increase his tea yield 7.5 times. Along with tea, he established a wealth of other commercial products on his farm.

Immature, Mature and Flowering Clove Bud

Being a member of the SOFA community gave him the opportunity to sell his goods at above-average prices (a living wage) along with access to Fair Trade social premiums. These premiums are invested into his farm and his community.

Fair Trade Principles:

- Farm workers are paid a fair price
- Safe and humane working conditions
- Adequate housing and medical care
- Freedom for workers to organize
- Absence of forced labor and of child labor abuses
- Sustainable farming practices
- Direct trade between producers and US importers
